The Need For Father Love

Improving awareness for the powerful resource every child needs

Research and program facilitation by: Rev. Eli Williams, author of the book “Father Love” and founder and CEO of Urban Light Ministries. Research validation and report written by: Bruce Stapleton, MBA, Marketing Professor, Franklin University. Edited by: Pastor Kermit Rowe, past assistant editor at the Springfield News-Sun.

The “Father Love” program is a cutting-edge 13-week, discussion-based workshop that leverages current research with the book “Father Love,ⁱ” authored by the Rev. Eli Williams. This book and an accompanying study guide provide a personal study program that trains, encourages and enables fathers and future fathers to become Protectors, Order-keepers, Providers and Stabilizers (POPS) for their families.

Each session includes engaging questions and action steps that facilitate the learning of behaviors that will help participants fully implement the Father’s unconditional love into their lives and family relationships. The program leverages over 25 years of addressing the needs of childrenⁱⁱ and families, and more than 12 years of targeted fatherhood workⁱⁱⁱ. The curriculum is built on biblical principles and true stories, showing the powerful benefits of a father’s love.

Validated Curriculum

The “Father Love” curriculum is based on documented research concerning a fast-growing systemic problem in America: The need for a father in a child’s life. Past research proves that the presence of a responsible father promotes improved academic performance and reduced disciplinary problems among children.^{iv} The study then adds biblical truths and accompanying Scripture to reveal the importance of turning the hearts of fathers toward their children and the children’s hearts toward the Heavenly Father.

The life-changing 13-week session covers the following topics:

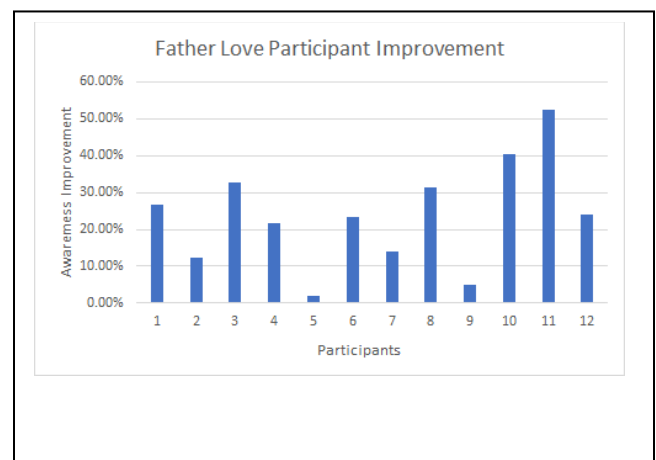

- Session 1: What is missing?
- Session 2: Father Love defined
- Session 3: Love is patient and kind
- Session 4: Love does not envy
- Session 5: Love does not boast and is not proud
- Session 6: Love is not rude or self-seeking
- Session 7: Love is not easily angered
- Session 8: Love thinks no evil
- Session 9: Love finds joy in the truth
- Session 10: Father love is nurturing
- Session 11: Love bears all things
- Session 12: Love endures all things
- Session 13: The Creator’s Father Love

Program Effectiveness

The “Father Love” program has been implemented since 2018. One of the most diverse groups of participants was conducted in January 2019 with 45 registered participants, varying between the ages of 12 and 64. The average attendance during the 13-week program was 26 participants. Sixteen certificates were awarded for successfully completing the workshop (90+ % attendance).

The “Father Love” program improves participants’ awareness of how to become a more effective POPS by over 22%

A pre- and post-test were administered to each participant to determine the levels of awareness of the subject matter and improvement at the end of the 13-week session. The survey consisted of 13 questions and was based on a five-point scale^v. Overall, there was an average improvement of 22.4% for the program. The largest improvement in understanding the important skill of being a successful father came from the under-20-year-old group, which improved by 35%. The 20- to 50-year-old group improved on average 21.8% and the over-50 age group improved on average 12.3%.

The area with the largest overall average improvement was the understanding of the common factors when there is abuse, neglect or traumatized children.

Program Testimonials

The following testimonials were received from participants in the past Father Love program:

“What I really liked about the program was the interaction with other fathers who had much more experience with parenting. Through learning about their experiences, I hope I can now better react to these trials of parenting.”

“I would definitely recommend this program since it opened my eyes to the many different aspects of fatherhood that I would not have considered before taking the class. The nurturing side of fatherhood was especially interesting since I always considered this to be more of mom’s role but, learned how this is also an important aspect of being a father.”

“As fathers, if we are not providing the Christ-like example to our children then no matter how successful we are to the world around us we are not going to be successful father figures to our children. Without a proper example, our children will resent us and probably fail as a parent themselves. Nobody wins in that scenario.”

“Practical application is the piece that is often missing. By hearing others struggles and victories and being vulnerable to share our experiences, we realize that we don’t have it all figured out. We can encourage each other to go to the biblical truths that helps us continue to grow and understand what father love really is.”

“I think when you attend a program like “Father Love” and are raised in a Christian home you tend to think you know these things; I know these Bible verses, I know this already. But if you are willing to take an honest assessment of yourself and determine how well am I practically implementing these skills in my life, then I think this program can be a huge value in reminding you of what you know to be true and provide guidance into how to carry it out.”
